KUME SPA

Korean Body Scrub

Assumption of Risk & Liability Notice

Before your service

A Korean body scrub uses a textured mitt to exfoliate your skin. Everyone's skin responds differently. Even with proper care, you may experience redness, tenderness, dryness, stinging, irritation, light scratch marks, or minor abrasions. Stronger reactions can occur, especially if your skin is sensitive or already irritated.

Tell us about your skin

Before we begin, let your therapist know about sensitive skin, cuts, open wounds, rashes, sunburn, eczema, psoriasis, or allergies. Please also mention recent waxing, laser treatments, chemical peels, or exfoliation, and any medications or skincare products that affect skin sensitivity or healing. For your safety, we may adjust, postpone, or decline the service.

Your comfort matters

You may request lighter pressure, pause, or stop the scrub at any time. Tell your therapist right away if you feel scratching, burning, pain, excessive pressure, or discomfort. Please do not wait until the service is over to speak up.

Understanding and accepting the risks

By choosing to proceed after having a chance to read this notice and ask questions, you acknowledge the possible skin reactions described above and voluntarily accept the inherent, ordinary risks of exfoliation. Individual reactions cannot be predicted or guaranteed against.

Liability terms

To the extent California law allows, by voluntarily proceeding, you agree to release KUME Spa, its owners, employees, and service providers from claims arising solely from the inherent risks of this service or from ordinary negligence. This release applies only where legally permitted and enforceable. It does not cover gross negligence, reckless or intentional misconduct, violations of law, or any liability that cannot legally be waived.

After your scrub

Avoid further exfoliation and irritating products while your skin is sensitive. Please contact KUME Spa promptly if you notice an unexpected reaction. Seek medical attention for severe or persistent symptoms.

No signature is required for this posted notice. It explains the risks and KUME Spa's requested terms. Posting this notice alone may not create an enforceable liability release. Please ask our staff any questions before deciding to proceed.